Enjoy a greener in-room dining experience

We're guessing you care about what you throw into which recycling bin ... we care too! That's one reason we have chosen to deliver your in-room dining in completely compostable packaging.

We're also guessing you like your food delivered hot? Sometimes due to our resort-style layout, and the beautiful Lake District weather, this can be challenging. So, our delivery boxes are thermally lined. Consistently hot food, whilst saving the world one room service at a time.

We have designed the dishes on the menu to be easily consumed straight from the box, but if you would prefer to lay out a more traditional set up, please let us know.

Why we're doing it this way ...

At Langdale sustainability is important in everything we do and room service is no different. This format reduces waste and plastic while helping the staff to deliver great food efficiently.

Arrive hot ... no matter what the weather's doing
